SHABBOS OF SILENCE

In response to the recent tragedy in Itamar

The response of Aharon to the tragic death of his sons—which we'll read about in next week's parasha—was silence.

What better way to remember the holy martyrs of Itamar than through silence?

This Shabbos, we should accept upon ourselves (b'li neder) not to talk at all in Shul for the entire time we are in Shul—from the time we enter the sanctuary until the davening totally ends (which means the completion of the kaddish after the Shir Shel Yom). Everyone—men, women and children—will not say anything outside of tefillah (prayer) for the duration of the entire davening. This includes not talking between Aliyos, not saying "Good Shabbos" from the time davening has begun until it totally ends, and not talking to our children (who should not be in the sanctuary if they will need to be "shushed").

The music for Kabbalas Shabbos was all composed by Shlomo Carlebach in celebration of the 100th anniversary of his birth.

New “Mi Sheberach” list for those who are sick of our kehilla.

The Boys' Choir will perform in the Social Hall at 7 PM on Sunday. The kehilla is invited to attend this tragedy.

The mesiba was a great success. “Thanks!” to Rabbi D, who labored the whole evening at the piano, which as usual fell upon him.

Don't let worry kill you off—let the shul help.

New choir—we invite any member of the congregation who enjoys sinning to join the choir.

announcements?

Mikveh Mishlo'ach Manos “Reciprocity PLUS”—for an additional $2.50 per name, we will highlight all the names of those who only sent to you because they selected the “reciprocity” option!

Water, water everywhere... The water fountains at CZE are going to be removed—people only want to use them on Shabbos, anyway.

CZE security upgrade—following the model of many childcare facilities that allow parents to watch their children online, CZE is installing closed-circuit cameras, so wives (who make sacrifices so their husbands can come to shul) can monitor their husbands and ensure they are really davening.

CCMMMC (Cincinnati Community Mikveh Men's Mikveh Card) Update
We wish to dispel rumors that men need to mail notarized copies of passports to Kazakhstan for verification to fill out an application for consideration to possibly buy a card to be zocheh to toivel in the mikveh six months later. Only a driver's license is needed—and the application processing center is in Uzbekistan.

We're a-movin' on up... In the event that some classes have to be split next year, and there are not enough classrooms, CHDS will install a ma'akeh on the roof so they can hold classes there. Parents should not be alarmed—the height of the ma'akeh will conform with all halachic opinions, including that of the Chazon Ish.
