Introduction

Welcome to the 2003 Annual Report of the Cincinnati Community Kollel. The Kollel has just completed its eighth year of activity and we are proud of the accomplishments of the past year. It is with great excitement that we offer this review to our community and supporters. The report in your hands contains our activity reports, as well as staff bios, an income statement and balance sheet, and an alphabetical list of our contributor base.

What is our Community Kollel? At its core it is a makom Torah, a place dedicated to the study of Torah. The Kollel operates with the philosophy that, more than any other spiritual or physical asset, it is our Torah and the study of it that have kept our people alive throughout the millennia. It is the goal of our staff to share the beauty of Torah study throughout the Cincinnati Jewish community and, through that, to help each Jew draw closer to his or her Judaism.

We call the Torah Etz Chaim—a Tree of Life—and, like a tree, in order to bear fruit it must have roots deep within the earth. In order to share Torah, our staff must be deeply rooted in their own dynamic Torah study. Our staff scholars maintain two daily study sessions, each three hours in length, where in a group format they probe, study, and analyze the Torah. This daily effort is led by my co-director, Rabbi Meir Minster. The study of this last year has found us deep in the study of the laws of kashrus and its sources in Talmud Chulin. This upcoming year we look forward to completing this two year project.

Our Mission Statement reads, “To enrich the Cincinnati Jewish community by creating an environment of Torah study and providing access to our spiritual heritage.” Anyone who has stepped into the Kollel’s Beis Midrash (study hall) understands how an environment dedicated to Torah study energizes Jews to pass on their heritage from generation to generation. But to provide education to the members of a community, you must meet them “where they are,” and the Kollel has done that, by partnering with a host of community organizations. Our Outreach Director, Rabbi Yitzchok Preis, has effectively led that charge, overseeing all of the Kollel’s off-site learning opportunities.

This past year was witness to a significant change in our team of four Staff Scholars. Staff Scholars join the Kollel for an average of two to five years as a “first step out” from the purely academic world. When we began last year, three scholars had just left the Kollel for new and exciting positions, and three new scholars had joined us. I am pleased to report that our new team has been a smashing success, both in their teaching and reaching out to others as well as in their own study sessions. They are truly a special group, each with a unique blend of humanity, compassion, and scholarship.

We look forward to the coming year and the opportunity to touch the lives of ever more Jews with the beauty of Torah.

Report on On-Site Learning

This past year marked a milestone for the Kollel. We began the study of tractate Chulin—which deals with the laws of kashrus—for the second time in our history. The arrival of three new Staff Scholars and their families, which completed the full turnover of our original founding team, allowed us the opportunity to restart our cycle of learning.

During its first seven years, the Kollel had completed five tractates of the Talmud, covering practical areas of Jewish living. Chulin had been our first area of focus and engaged us for our first two years. This was followed by Niddah - the laws of family purity and then Berochos - the laws of Blessings and Prayer. The final three of those years were spent covering the laws of Shabbos, found in the tractates Shabbos and Eiruv.

This coming year, our ninth, we look forward to completing the study of Chulin, continuing through our second cycle.

I would like to take a moment to describe the daily activities of our Beis Midrash. A Beis Midrash translates literally into a “study hall” or “place of learning,” but in our case it is much more. Besides serving as the physical hub for much of the Kollel’s activities, the spiritual impact of the Torah learned there permeates and drives all that we do.

This is the essence of the Kollel. From our own learning come the Torah insights that we are able to share with others. Our day is anchored by our personal study. In the morning session we attempt to master specific areas of halacha, legal conclusions, while in the afternoon we survey the entire tractate at hand, gaining an appreciation for the context from which Halacha is derived. No less important, however, is the community learning which we view as flowing from these sessions.

From 5:30 in the morning until after 10:30 at night, members of the community can be found learning in the Beis Midrash—with the Kollel staff or on their own. They are taking time from their schedules to incorporate the beauty of Torah into their day. Whether studying one-on-one at breakfast, lunch or during our evening community session, or by joining a class or lunch-and-learn, people are finding their lives enriched by the Torah.

Over the past few months, Cincinnati has joined the growing number of cities that are participating in a new and exciting early-morning learning program called Kollel Dirshu International. This program, led locally by Rabbi Yitzchok Preis, encourages the mastery of sections of the Talmud by setting a daily pace and a weekly examination of the material covered. A stipend is offered for those who reach attendance and grade requirements. Although the learning ends by 7:00am, the participants have found their entire day transformed by this early morning spiritual workout. Some even return later in the day to continue their Torah discussions.

We have been pleasantly surprised by the number of people this program has attracted. Kollel Dirshu joins our other successful programs, Yesodei Hatorah (where participants acquire the skills to learn on their own) and Daf Yomi—the daily study of a folio of Talmud, gaining an appreciation for the breadth of the Talmud.

Perhaps our proudest moment is at Father and Son Learning, where parents, grandparents and children gather on winter Saturday nights, filling the Kollel building to capacity. The sweet sound of Torah being passed on from generation to generation is truly inspiring. Special thanks go to volunteer Josh Kibel, who runs this program so effectively. We also thank Rabbi Shai Scherer, for expanding the program to include a summer version, on Shabbos afternoons.

I invite you to come in to the Kollel. Join us in our learning and discover your own place in Torah. We look forward to seeing you.
